

The Herald

July 4 and 11, 2010 Independence Day and 7th Sunday after Pentecost

From the Rector: Of Ecclesia

Ecclesia is the Koine Greek word for the gathered assembly, the church. The word literally means, “the called out ones.” I spent last week in Austin at the Seminary of the Southwest for continuing education. Our topic was Paul’s so-called “first” letter to the Corinthians, the ecclesia under Paul’s aegis in Corinth in the first century. Our professor for the week is a notable Pauline scholar who has spent much of her professional career reconstructing what these early communities of faith looked like...these egalitarian communities that followed this enigmatic pharisee who birthed the early church. We took on the difficult chapters first in our study, the ones about women keeping quiet in church, speaking in tongues and their interpretation, whether to eat meat blessed by other gods, Paul’s preference that the faithful remain celibate, the appropriate means of prophecy. In all of these issues the common theme among them was the question of how to deal with and manage the new found freedom that is manifest in Christian community, and how to live responsibly into the empowerment freedom brings. Paul writes that they are freed from the Law...but that with such freedom comes balance and perspective and responsibility.

It is clear in Paul’s writing that the “called out ones” are call to freedom, and called for freedom...their own freedom and the freedom of others (which makes the passage about women keeping quiet in church something of a non sequitur...in fact there are scholars who argue that the passage is a later addition to the letter). The practice of the Christian faith in its beginnings was about liberation...liberation from oppression and injustice...liberation from hunger and thirst...liberation from squalor and disease...to be included and participate in the heart and soul of the community, the family meal, as equals, one experiences first hand the peace that comes of justice, and the joy of living in dignity...the high water mark of salvation.

Paul is also clear that this calling is not about the individual, but the calling of a community....all bearing each other up, the whole greater than the sum of its parts, all bearing each other up with unique and many gifts in the imaginative process of salvation.... saving and empowering freedom for, as Paul puts it, and Hebrew scripture as well, the ethnes, the nations, all peoples.

In the United States we speak often of freedom, and we celebrate that freedom this coming Sunday, and it is indeed something to celebrate, but let us remember that freedom and empowerment is meant for all. Perhaps in our national deliberations on foreign policy, in health-care, in economics, in issues concerning immigration, in warfare, that our rubric becomes freedom and empowerment, not just for us, but for all of humanity, all whose birthright is freedom because all are made in God’s image, and with freedom comes great responsibility for all as well. May we as the called out ones of All Saints Church bear this freedom and power we share with passion and courage, because the world waits for it, waits in hope...Let us be that hope called out.

The Fourth of July falls on Sunday this year, and though Independence Day appears on our liturgical calendar, I've mostly shied away from making too much ado about the birthday of our nation in church. Maybe it's a church and state thing. But there's no escaping the fact that we are Americans, privileged to live in a democracy... America still a socio-political novelty, and a beacon of freedom to many around the world, our faults notwithstanding. This July Fourth at both services we are going to be intentional about giving thanks for the land we inhabit and love. We will sing songs about our country and we will hear readings from founding fathers and mothers, and from others who figured prominently in the formation of our nation, and the cause for freedom, which indeed is a gospel imperative. Eucharist literally means celebration, and our nation is something to celebrate. Please join us at 8:00 or 10:30am!

-Jim Flowers

Special Ministries Camp 2010 was a huge success! Thanks so very, very much for your support and contributions. You all made the trip of a lifetime possible for 28 campers who gathered at Stirling Hall on Wednesday morning. The parents were as enthusiastic as the campers as we pulled out on the bus for five days and four nights at Beckwith. Swimming, canoeing, arts, crafts, cookouts, games, talent shows – all were a part of the wonderful week our diocesan youth had planned for the children. Campers bonded with counselors, skills were taught and learned, experiences shared which we feel touched all their lives profoundly. We are so proud of what our congregation did for this special ministry, one that has been on-going at All Saints for over thirty years. We wish each of you had been with us as we traveled to and from Weeks Bay to hear the joy and excitement of these children. And to witness the spirit of community and fellowship we saw unfold for all those involved. How can we ever thank you?

-Penny Coleman and Stella Hester

And MANY thanks to Penny and Stella for all their hard work in putting this together!

Is Your Pledge Up to Date?

Pledge collections have fallen behind somewhat, as they do sometimes during the summer months. At the same time, a few expense items are running higher than budget—most notably utilities. Please help All Saints avoid a financial pinch by making sure your pledge is paid and up to date!

-Clark Kelly, Treasurer

Thanks to the Food Share volunteers who helped last weekend to feed our neighbors. We were able to provide some different items this time: fresh eggs and cheese were on board in addition to frozen blueberries, dried beans, and other items.

The dates for July Food Share are Friday, July 23 at 5:30pm to assemble the food bags and Saturday, July 24 at 7:30am to distribute the food. Please mark your calendars and join this great community ministry!

Name Change!

The REAP Committee (Re-Entry Assistance Program) has decided on a more user-friendly name for its new work. The new name, Fresh Start Ministries, says what the basic mission is: to help people who have been newly released from jail or prison to get a fresh start. The ministry is in its infancy and there is a lot of planning to be done. Meetings will be held weekly on Thursdays at 6:30pm in the Saad Room of the Parish Hall, beginning July 8. Anyone who wants to help in this exciting new venture is welcome to attend. Questions? Call Danny Moreau at 272-0041. Watch the Herald and the web site for meeting dates.

IHN/Family Promise week begins Sunday evening, July 11 and runs through Sunday morning, July 18. There are a number of blank spots to be filled on the calendar by All Saints for evening hosts, overnight hosts, and breakfast hosts. Please let Henry Brewster know ASAP if you can fill a slot—he will be out of town from 7/3-7/10—time is of the essence! Email him (brewster919@bellsouth.net) or call him at 338-0630.

The Eagle Scout Project to build partitions for the IHN family 'rooms' will continue this Wednesday, June 30 from 6-8pm in Stirling Hall. Bring your power drill and get ready for some fun!

Reading 1st Corinthians for Teaching was the title of the continuing education course Jim Flowers took last week at the Episcopal Seminary of the Southwest, his alma mater. During the course, there were two assignments besides attending class every day: the first was to choose a passage from 1st Corinthians, memorize it, and perform it for the class; the second was to 'make something' about Paul. One classmate created a Facebook page for Paul; another wrote a letter back to Paul; another wrote a letter from Paul to the postmodern church. Jim wrote this poem:

As One Untimely Borne An homage to the apostle Paul

Paul is in truth small Paul's life and ministry
a small thing.
God's life
manifest in the small things:
an orchid
a willow the orphan
the widow.
there was a time when God was large but that was no God at all.
God is small like bits of leaven
and that is enough
and that is no small thing.

Phillips Preparatory School, a magnet middle school in Mobile, is a 'Box Tops School.' Many food products have this coupon on the packaging; if you cut them out and turn them in, the school makes money to use for various things that they need. (A list of some of the products with these coupons is posted on the bulletin board near the chapel.)

Since Phillips is one of only a handful of schools in Mobile that is not a Title I school, it does not receive any Federal money and therefore must earn the money it needs. In the five years of being a Box Tops school, Phillips has earned more than $28,000, and it has been the #1 Box Tops school in both Mobile County and the state for the last 4 years! Many All Saints children have or are currently attending Phillips, so let's help them out with this program! Please collect these Box Tops and bring them to church with you on Sunday. A jar will be on the volunteer's desk by the office door. We'll distribute them to current students for credit in their classes. Thanks for your help!

The policy of this church is to keep people on the prayer list for one month. After a month, they will be removed. If you want someone to be on the list longer, please call the office; the request will be updated and s/he will be kept on for another month.

Refugee Pantry Items

There are many items we all use in our daily lives which are necessary but which cannot be purchased with food stamps. Certain items that are perhaps more necessary than others don't last long for a family of 10.

We need donations of items such as laundry soap, toilet paper, garbage bags & paper towels. Please bring them to the church office or put them in the basket in the Ann Street narthex. Thanks!
