From the Rector: Of Process and Hope

There are so many words ubiquitous in the church that have fallen flat from over-use; words like sin, redemption, atonement, perfection, faith, righteousness... just to name a few. It is a long list, and through their overuse these words sadly have lost their meaning, their resonance, most particularly the meaning intended by the authors, who used them quite deliberately in speaking and speculating as to the relationship between humanity and God. Words embody imaginative process, so scripture at its best is the process of imaginative speculation, artful speech as to the most and the best we might say about God and humankind. So we need to take seriously these words, beyond their face value, beyond their popular usage. Perhaps the most overused and therefore misunderstood word in the church is salvation. It is a very important word to be sure, central to our faith, but a word that needs, as all words of scripture need, shall we say, revisiting.

In our hyper-individualistic culture the word salvation is decidedly personal. It has to do with me: “Jesus my personal savior.” Salvation in our western consumerist society is a commodity. It is something to possess, to own, to keep, to guard. Salvation is that possession that will insure life after death, and the way to possess salvation is to believe in Jesus... “believe in Jesus,” another worn out phrase rendered meaningless in post modern religious-speak. Such an awareness has engendered perhaps the greatest plague that afflicts Christianity, and that is the plague of exclusivity. I would argue that salvation, according to the scribes of scripture, is not about the individual, but about a people. Salvation is not personal but a dynamic in and of community, in and of the commonweal of humanity, addressing the ancient question of “how then shall we live with one another.” Plato asked it for western philosophy, but the question is and has been carried by every religious tradition on the planet.

I would also argue that salvation is not an end, but a process, a process which would render absurd the question, “Are you saved?” Salvation is ever becoming, ever being forged. Salvation is not about a “right” belief, but is about the process of the Good, the process for which we are born... the process of engendering in our world well-being and dignity. Salvation is the well-being and dignity of our neighbor, the well-being of the whole which indeed includes us... us, not me. The process is about the created order becoming what God intends it to be. We are co-creators of the process... artisans, midwives, bringing salvation which at its heart is a sure and certain hope. That makes salvation a term that encompasses the social, the economic, the political, the spiritual... all rudiments of well-being... all rudiments of dignity. Salvation is the vocation of all of us who trust the time-honored rubric that to love God is to love one’s neighbor.

God is another word we have allowed to become ossified and vacant. There are of course over the ages many metaphors for God... We can only speak of such a thing in metaphor.... God is wind... God is light... God is fire... God is warrior... God is father... God is mother... God is antagonist... God is lover... all metaphors; all artful speculation. In the Gospels we are taught that God is compassion... that God is inclusion and embrace for all... outcasts included... God is lover of justice and kindness... God is grief for the oppressed and forsaken... God is passion for the poor and the sick and the lonely... In short, God is process, process another high metaphor for this God we worship. God is process drawing the world into Godself. God is a process into which we all must live as people of God... God, the very process of salvation... a process uncompleted, weaving truth and beauty, well-being and dignity into the fabric of our world.... the world becoming as God becomes... and we, intimately implied, becoming as well.

The process of God is a process of hope... hope becoming still... hope unvanquished... intrepid... inexorable... real. Such a hope requires our lives to make it so, the whole of us... the whole of us for the world to be made whole.... It is all there is, and all there needs to be.

New Bishop to be Elected Bishop Duncan has announced his retirement, effective July 2015. A Diocesan Search Committee has been formed and has begun its work. Please read the flyer inserted in this Herald concerning the online survey we are asked to complete to help the committee form a Diocesan Profile. For questions, call the office (438-2492).

A Newcomers Supper will be held at the home of Jim and Katharine Flowers, 922 Conti Street, on Thursday, March 13 at 6:30pm. All newcomers to All Saints (if you haven't been to a newcomers supper) are invited, as well as your spouse/partner. Please call the church office to let us know you are coming.

Lent begins on Wednesday, March 5

with Ash Wednesday services of Imposition of Ashes at 12 noon in the Chapel and at 6pm in the Church. The nursery will be available for the evening service. Our Lenten programs will begin the following Wednesday, March 12. Please see the schedule on page 3 for more information. Lenten Meditation booklets from Episcopal Relief & Development will be available.

Cleaning Days

March 8 is the cleaning day for the IHN closet in Stirling Hall. March 22 is the day to clean out the Bayou Bash closet. If you have a vested interest in either of these areas, please plan to come help so nothing is thrown out that needs to be kept. If you just want to help, you are also more than welcome! All cleaning begins at 10:00 AM.

Altar Flowers

Did you know that anyone can offer flowers or greenery for the altar on Sundays? The flower guild members create the arrangements (you can join if you're interested), but anyone can give them, perhaps in memory or in honor of someone, in thanksgiving for something, or simply to the glory of God! If you are interested, call Mary Holbrook (438-2492) to choose a date. The cost is $60, and, as a donation to the church, it is tax deductible. (See also the form on page 7 for giving Easter flowers.)

Food Share in March

Come help pack food bags at 7:15am on Saturday morning, March 15, just before the distribution at 8am. We'll pack the food, set up tables and distribute the food, and be finished by 8:30.

Golden Circle meets on Tuesday, Mar. 18 at 12 noon in Stirling Hall. Come for lunch and bingo!

Please keep in your prayers:

The choir will begin rehearsal at 7:30pm, when the program is over, instead of 7pm. The nursery will be available. Everyone is welcome!

THE ONLINE SURVEY IS READY!

Have your voice heard...for the calling of the 4th Bishop of the Diocese of the Central Gulf Coast

Your Diocesan Search Committee has invested a great deal of time and effort to determine the best way to attract and call the best candidates to serve as our fourth Bishop. One of our first steps is to develop our Diocesan profile. In order to develop a profile that reflects who we are, what we desire and who we hope to call as our Bishop, we will utilize two tools that rely on your deliberate participation – an Online Survey and Focus Group Gatherings.

THE HOLY COW! CONSULTING ONLINE SURVEY: we have worked with HOLY COW! Consulting to develop a series of questions that will help us form a baseline for the profile. As surveys go, it might not feel perfect but with all of the variables (timeline, budget, energy and desired results), we believe it best represents what we hope to uncover for our future use in the calling process. One important fact to remember is that the survey is designed to be completed online. Please go to this link to take the survey: <http://bishopsearch.diocgc.com/index.html>. At the same time, we do not want to exclude anyone from participating in the survey. If you have no access to any computer and want to take the survey, please contact the All Saints office (438-2492) to arrange to take the survey. Please complete the survey by March 16th, 5:00 p.m.

FOCUS GROUPS: we will host gatherings at over seven different locations across the Diocese beginning February 26th through March 27th. Our goal is to further the conversation beyond the survey, as we look to the future of our shared ministry in the Diocese. We will post the schedule of these gatherings. We strongly encourage you to set aside some time to join us at one of these important meetings, even if the closest gathering is not held in your home parish. Each Focus Group gathering will last approximately 1 ½ hours; we will use the same format in each gathering to initiate constructive conversation to identify themes and trends of the Diocese as a whole.

We are confident that, with your dedicated and prayerful participation by completing the survey and attending a Focus Group, that we will be able to develop a meaningful profile that will attract the right candidates for our next Bishop.

The Diocesan Search Committee's web site is www.bishopsearch.diocgc.org. Check it, Coastline emails and the Green Sheet for more information as it becomes available. We will update our website as we walk through this process.

We invite you to join us as we continue working together enthusiastically and prayerfully to accomplish this important ministry for you, our brothers and sisters of the Diocese of the Central Gulf Coast. Please continue praying for us. In particular, we ask you to use the prayer from our Book of Common Prayer on page 818, "For the Election of a Bishop or other Minister":

Almighty God, giver of every good gift: Look graciously on your Church, and so guide the minds of those who shall choose a bishop for this Diocese that we may receive a faithful pastor, who will care for your people and equip us for our ministries, through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

Please mark your calendars right away with the dates you are to serve!

If you cannot be present for the date you are scheduled, please get a substitute and let the church office know who it is. If you can't find a sub, let the office know as soon as possible. 438-2492.
